“This was really helpful for my students who needed some extra help apologizing. With the sentence stems they were able to complete it on their own.— Chloe P.”

“This is a great learning tool for students that need help to write apology letters. It helps them start it then form their own words. Love the teacher and parent signature on the pages. — Michael R”

“I used this to teach my second graders about how saying sorry just does not always work. They were able to break down their notes and see how sorry does not mean the same without the explanation. I know I will use this again. - Sarah W.”

My Letter of Apology

Dear Mr. Jones,

I would like to apologize for hitting your car with my baseball when I was playing with my friend, Dylan.

This was wrong because it dinged your car door and scared you too.

I am sure it made you feel super mad and upset with me.

Next time, I will make the better choice to not play so close to your driveway and watch out for your car.

I promise that from now on, I'll be kind and respectful at all times.

I am sorry for my actions and I am glad you are my friend!

Sincerely,

Jackson
