Here's why buyers this resource

We loved this resource!
It was so special reading about each student's goals and what they choose to be when they grow up! Love!

– Anna B.

We have students say what they want to be at graduation every year and we practiced this with this resource. Students really enjoyed this.

– Kendra M

My students were all too excited to discuss what they wanted to be when they grew up. Having the blank space on the worksheets also helped to encourage creativity when the kids were deciding on what they wanted to be. I had kids saying they wanted to design video games, be engineers, and many other great careers. I will most certainly be using this again in future lessons.
